

Bentley Community (UKI) Winter Conference
4th and 5th November 2009.

Heathrow Sheraton Hotel, London Heathrow.

There are many ways to describe the current climate.

Not all of these are either friendly or optimistic.

But we should try to remain positive.

It is better to look upon this time as an opportunity to reassess your position from both a personal and a company perspective.

In both case it is good to consolidate and improve your knowledge and expertise in readiness for any opportunity that arrives.

BC(UKI) will be able to help you to do this at our March event. This will be focussed on training and learning.

Training can be defined as being delivered in a formal setting with hands on approach. This will be offered on the first day.

Workshops differ from training because they are seminar based and allow the attendees to interact the presenter asking questions and raising points of view.

Currently a challenging and diverse program is being put together. So if you have a 'burning topic' that you would like explored, or perhaps you wish to present, please contact us.

Please put the dates in your calendars and make every effort to be there, or miss out on a splendid opportunity.
